THE REBEL RAID.

Conflicting Reports of its Progress-Another Preclamation by Gov. Curtin-His Views on the Threatened Invasion-Gen. Hunter on the War-Path-Latest Rumors, Speculations, Etc.,—The Rebel Forces on this Side of the Potomac— Their Number Estimated at 30,000.

[Dispatch to the Chronicle.]
BALTIMORE, July 6.—I have just conversed with a gentleman who left Frederick at 2% o'clock this afternoon. He says a small rebel cavairy force was, shortly before, at the mountain, three miles west; also that from 300 to 600 rebel cavalry were in Middletown Valley this morning, and plundering without discrimina. tion every one they came across.

It is impossible to say how many insurgents are on the raid. The greatest consternation prevailed at Frederick when my informant eft, and in his language, there was a regular stampede. Our pickets had been coming in, though it was believed the number of the enemy near Frederick was small and only cayalry scouts. It is useless, however, to deny that there is a formidable force of the enemy in the western region of Maryland, and the sooner this fact is known the better-how many, no one is exactly able to estimate. The great body of them is thought to be west of Harper's Perry. The rail oad runs only to Sandy Hook, opposite Harper's Ferry. Gens. Wallace and Tyler are very active concentrating their troops. The rebels seem to be scattered, and their main object is to rob. They also conscript indiscriminately, and are more desperate than BALTIMORE, July 6-p. m.-l now learn from later and reliable sources that the rebels are in Williamsport, Hagerstown and other portions of the State, but not in any formidable body. They are plundering in all directions, stealing horses and securing supplies. [Despatches to the Associated Press.] Gov. Curtin and Gen. Couch in Council. PHILADELPHIA, July 6.—A special to the Bulletin, dated Harrisburg, to-day, says:

General Couch has just received a despatch which leads us to believe that our cavalry were forced out of Hagerstown to-day. The despatch is dated at one o'clock this afternoon. It is believed the rebels have only cavalry. Our troops are concentrating at Chambersburg and beyond. The Governor will call immediately for more troops, in addition to the 12,000 called out yesterday, so that the old troops in the department may be sent to the front. The old Pennsylvania Reserves are flocking to the rescue. Gen. Couch is here, and is for the present in constant communication with Gov.

Exciting Reports. BALTIMORE, July 6-9 P. M.—The following is all that has been received from the upper

Some excitement was caused at Frederick this afternoon by the fact that a slight skirmish had occurred between our pickets and a small squad of rebel scouts between Frederick and Point of Rocks.

From the movements per eptible among the enemy at Harper's Ferry to-day, it was supposed that Hunter's forces were actively pressing them in the rear. Nothing definite could be ascertained, but there is every reason to believe that Hunter will be heard from to some purpose before Every possible precaution has been taken by General Wallace to guard against the possibility of any surprise movement by the enemy in this direction. Should they come within this department they will meet with an uncomfortable reception.

There are some exciting reports to-night as to the presence of a large force of rebels near Harper's Ferry, but they are not deemed reliable. The Raiders at Hagerstown. HARRISDURG, July 6.—A dispatch from Chambersburg states that a rebel-force, supposed to be Bradley Johnson's brigade, entered Hagerstown this afternoon. The Federal forces at that place, under Lieut. McLean. after a spirited resistance, were compelled to fall back on Greencastle, with which place we still had telegraphic communication up to 9 o'clock p. m. Cars Running to Sandy Hook. BALTIMORE, July 6, 10.15 p. m.—Dispatches received by the officers of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, up to 9% to-night, say that the rebels had not yet made any attack on our forces at Maryland Heights. Cars are running safely as far as Sandy Hook. It is reported that a small body of rebels are at Middletown, about 8 miles from Frederick, near South Mountain. Rebel Force Thirty Thousand. BALTIMORE, July 6, Midnight .- In addition to what has been sent from here to-night, there are reports that have reached the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad depot, that the enemy are in large force on this side of the Potomac.

Some estimates are as high as 30,000. This, however, is thought to be very doubtful. Proclamation of Gov. Curtin. HARRISRURG, July 6.—The following pro-clamation has just been issued by the Gov-

It is now ascertained that a large rebel force has been detached from Richmond, and is advancing on the north. So large a portion of our army is at remote points that it becomes necessary to raise immediately a sufficient body to repel them. They are already within the borders of the Commonwealth. You have always heretofore been ready to answer the call of your country. You will not be less ready to come forward when your homes and firesides are to be defended against a proffigate horde of plunderers. I am authorized by the President of the United States to call for 12,000 volunteers, in addition to those required by my proclamation of yesterday, to serve for 100 days in Pennsylvania, Maryland and Washington and its vicinity.

I appeal to the freemen of Pennsylvania to rouse themselves for the necessary effort, and come promptly to sweep the invaders from the soil. I refer to the general order from the headquarters Pennsylvania militia, No. 50. dated July 5, 1864, published with this proclamation, for the details of the arrangements. I do most carnestly request the good and loyal men of the Common wealth, and especially the yeteran soldiers in all her borders, to show themselves to be worthy of her in this emergency. Her sons have established for themselves, on many a bloody field, a reputation for the martial virtues which they will not now forfeit, when both their well-earned fame and the safety of their homes and families are ELI SLIFER,

[Correspondence of the Chronicle.]

NEAR PETERSBURG, July 3, 8p. m.—Nothing of interest has occurred along our lines since writing my last despatch. There are those who expect a fight to-morrow. Warren and Burnside have each a battery of six guas planted on Mortar firing continues. It does but little damage save to our breastworks, and that is

The only place where skirmishing can now be heard on our line is in front of Wilcox's division, 9th corps. The rebels and our men are growing very familiar, this is upon the right and left of that division. There is evidently some design in keeping up a continual fire at this point by night and day.

July 4, 11 p. m. The 4th of July is over. There has been neither incident, battle, nor bloodehed. Nearly every one was disappointed. The prospect for a fight was, by good judges, considered excellent. The rebels, I opine, were as much deceived as our men. Two deserters came from their ranks into our lines last night. Once before these men made a similar attempt with less success. This time they were not fired at; on the contrary, were well received when they informed our pickets it was their intention to "spend another Fourth in the Union" The truth is, they expected a tremendous assault from the "Yankees," and stepped out early to take time by the forelock and avoid the dangers which, on the morrow, might culminate in death.

Public School Examinations.—The examination of the public schools was continued Tuesday afternoon, as follows:

Primary No. 3 (female), First District, Miss M. J. Mills teacher, was examined by Mr.

Tustin. There are 56 scholars upon the rolls, of whom 51 were present. Miss Mills has, during the past year, received 14 scholars into her school, and transferred 14 to higher schools. In orthography, abbreviations, rules for cap-italizing, ciphering and geography the schol-ars passed a very creditable examination. The third class in spelling was a little deficient, but what they lacked in this branch they made up in dictation. The first class in mental arithmetic appeared to be a little backward, but this is not, we think, the fault of the teacher, as the school labors under great disadvantages, being placed in a room where two other schools are taught. The second class in mental arithmetic appeared to good advantage. The specimen books of penmauship of these scholars, dating from 1863 to 1861, show excellent progress. This school is held in a room (in which there are two other schools) on the corner of Pennsylvania avenue and 19th street, and certainly one at least of the schools should be removed immediately, as the teachers complain that owing to the confusion they are unable to do justice to their scholars.

Secondary, No. 4, was, in the absence of Mr.

Brown, examined by Mr. W. C. Lipscomb, Jr., in a therough manner. The teacher (Miss A.

M. Kirk) can congratulate herself upon the general result of this examination, as the examiner expressed himself greatly pleased with the progress made by the scholars. Miss Kirk has upon her rolls fifty four scholars, fifty of whom were present at the examination. She has during the past year transferred to Mrs. Rodier's school thirty-five of her best scholars. The scholars were examined in spelling, dictation, orthography, practical and mental arithmetic, ciphering, geography, &c., in all of which they did well, but in seme they deserve particular mention. The penmanship of the classes (of which there are three) was excellent in all. In ciphering also, the classes did remarkably well. The classes in mental arithmetic were subjected to a close examination, passing a satisfactory examination. passing a satisfactory examination. The first and scond classes, which were heard together in geography, were quite proficient, and it is the intention of the teacher to transfer these scholars to a higher school shortly. Mr. Lipscomb, at the conclusion of the examination, expressed his gratification at the progress all the scholars had made, but regretted that there were none of the parents of the children present, for it would have been an encouragement to the children as well as the teacher. Mr. L. reminded the scholars that the next best friend after their parents was their teacher, and he urged them to be patient, and not neglect to do well because they got tiredlat times. It was, said Mr. L., a great deal of labor to learn all they had repeated during the examination, but they would have their re-

Miss Kirk's school is held in a rear room in the basement of Union Chapel, on 20th street. The room is a very large one, and would do well for school purposes if more light and better ventilation was provided, which can be done at a small cost.

Second District.-The Female Grammar School, taught on the second floor of the old Medical College, (corner of 10th and E streets,) Miss Boggs, teacher, was examined Tuesday afternoon in the presence of quite a number of the parents and friends of the pupils and teach-ers from other schools, among whom we noticed Mrs. Amidon, Miss Evans and Miss Ramsey, of the other female grammar schools; also, Miss Lowe, Miss Morphy, Miss Van Horn, Miss Wheatly, Miss Billing and Miss Woodruff. Rev. Drs. Gillett and Gray, Z. Richards, Esq., and other gentlemen were also present, and took part in the examination, which was conducted by the three trustees of the Second District-Messrs. Miller, Wight and Rheesand Messrs. Ellis and Wilson, of the Fourth and First Districts. The room was bandsomely decorated for the occasion, there being a profusion of wreaths, evergreens, &c., throughout, interspersed with numerous national flags; and on the north side of the room were displayed banners, with the following inscriptions: - "The Public Schools, the Palladium of Liberty;" "Our Free Schools, the nurseries of a free people;" "All honor to our country's gallant defenders." During the exercises the scholars sang a number of pieces with fine effect, being accompanied on the piano by one of their number. A composition was read by Miss Lemon in excellent style, the theme being "The Teacher," and received much commendation as a remarkably well written piece

The examination was commenced at one o'clock and was protracted until near eight, and in some of the studies the scholars did excellently. The classes in written arithmetic passed a good examination, but the e was no examination in the important study of mental arithmetic, which study in most of the schools is an important-feature. The dictation exercises were fair and the reading in concert was good, in some instances very good, the reading of Miss Flenner, for correct pronunciation, expression and punctuation, especially deserving notice. The scholars in geography were rather backward; also in the governmental instructor. In natural philosophy they passed a good ex-amination, and the deficiencies in the other branches named may have been occasioned by the fatigue of the pupils, the examination being continued at too great a length. The vocal music was excellent.

This school was full during the year, but at present has but 44 on the roll. Many have withdrawn during the year, some just before the examination, which is injustice to teacher and school. The order of the school was very good. At the close of the exercises Mr. Richards complimented the young ladies, stating that if they could only remember the schools of fifteen years ago they would be surprised at the progress, and he predicted that fifteen years hence those who lived will see the schools of that day as far ahead of the schools of this day as the latter are ahead of those fifteen years back. Mr. Wight also complimented the school, and was followed by Mr. Wilson, who referred to the fact of somany scholars leaving just before the examination, thereby preventing the teacher getting the credit she was entitled to, and he thought that the trustees ought, in admitting preference to those who would attend the en-Fourth District .- Secondary No. 4, Mrs. Bowen, teacher, was examined by Mr. Murtagh, assisted by Mr. J. E. Thompson. A very fair examination, the teacher laboring under disadvantage, having only a Primary at the beginning of the year. The singing by the boys was very good, and they displayed excellent pro-

scholars to the schools in December, to give the ficiency in spelling. Secondary No. 5, Miss Sarah Eckloff, teacher, was examined by Mr. J. E. Thompson, assisted by Mr. Murtagh. The whole examina-tion was most excellent. The mental arithmetic and reading were especially good. The singing was good. There was a large number of parents present, we are glad to say. The room was handsomely decorated, and the school and room altogether presented a thoroughly commendable appearance.
